

EFRAG should reject any changes to IFRS standards that do not simplify and reduce the reporting burden. Continuity in financial reporting is the most important thing for all parties involved. There have been enough changes in recent years that have only generated costs and have not added value.

Soren Ploschke, FinLab AG, 24 February 2020